Arrow of Light-to-Scouts Transition

Arrow of Light is the final badge of rank in Cub Scouting for 5th graders and is designed to prepare Cub Scouts to join a Scouts BSA Troop.

Arrow of Light Scouts and their families should be familiar and comfortable with the youth and adult leaders of the Scouts BSA troop, their role in the troop and troop activities, and feel excited about beginning this new adventure. The passage from a pack to a troop should be smooth, with no time lost in between. The crossover ceremony should clearly signify the transition to a new level of Scouting.

The key factor to a strong Arrow of Light to Scouts BSA transition is the ongoing working relationship of the leaders of a Cub Scout pack, the Arrow of Light den leader, and the adult leaders of the Scouts BSA troop. Ideally, a chartered organization would have a pack and a troop with leaders who work together to help prepare Arrow of Light Scouts into a Scouts BSA troop the same way schools move students from elementary school to middle school.

By planning and coordinating their efforts, the pack and troop can help make the Arrow of Light -to-Scout transition seamless and give all Arrow of Light Scouts a chance to experience the fun and excitement of joining a Scouts BSA troop.

Pack Responsibilities

It should be the goal of the Cubmaster and Arrow of Light den leader to have each Scout continue their Scouting experience. Pack and den leaders can use these tips:

- First thing is to develop a working relationship with the leadership of a Scouts BSA troop or troops in the community. Most troops should have either an assistant Scoutmaster or a committee member assigned to new Scouts. Your unit commissioner can help put you in contact with troop leaders.
- Ensure that Arrow of Light Scouts visit a Scouts BSA Troop as early as possible, this is a requirement for the required Bobcat Adventure.
- Work with troop leaders to secure den chiefs, with a focus on Arrow of Light dens.
- Work with troop leaders to get assistance with delivering Arrow of Light required and elective Adventures.
- Invite the Scoutmaster and troop youth leaders to special pack activities. This will help create familiarity and a level of comfort for the Arrow of Light Scouts and their parents as they ease into the troop.

- Plan a meaningful crossover ceremony. Include troop leadership to be present to accept the Arrow of Light Scouts as they graduate.
- If a troop does not exist in your community, discuss with the head of the pack's chartered organization about the possibility of organizing a troop. An Arrow of Light den can form the nucleus of a new troop.

Troop Responsibilities

The transition from an Arrow of Light den to a Scouts BSA troop is an important stage in the Scouting journey. It is crucial that Scout leaders do everything they can to make the process as seamless and inviting as possible for Webelos and their parents, including:

- Become familiar with the requirements for the six Arrow of Light required Adventures.
- Schedule and prepare for Arrow of Lights Scouts to visit the Troop meeting as soon as possible (start of the school/program year).
- Select Scouts to serve as den chiefs for each Arrow of Light den. Arrange for den chief training.
- Serve as a resource for overnight activities. The troop can be of service to provide equipment, leadership, and logistics for Arrow of Light den or pack campouts.
- Conduct an orientation for parents when Arrow of Light Scouts are visiting the Troop to explain the difference between Cub Scouting and Scouts BSA and how the Arrow of Light badge or rank will help prepare them for joining Scouts BSA. Include information on Summer Camp to allow families to prepare financially and take advantage of fundraising opportunities.
- Arrow of Light den campouts with a Scout troop should show Arrow of Light Scouts and their parents what to expect when they move into the troop. The Arrow of Light den and troop should cook and camp by patrol and use skills that the Arrow of Light Scouts can participate in.
- Provide each Arrow of Light Scouts and their parents with a copy of the troop's activities for the upcoming year.
- Get to know the parents and leaders in the Arrow of Light den. Have personal one-on-one discussions about how they can be of service to the troop when their child joins.

- Work with the Cubmaster and Arrow of Light den leader in planning a meaningful crossover ceremony.

Unit Commissioner Responsibilities

The unit commissioner is the connecting link in the chain between the troop and the pack. Often, the same unit commissioner will serve both a pack and troop in the same community, making them a great resource for assisting in the Arrow of Light-to-Scout transition.

Unit commissioners can use these tips to help Arrow of Light Scouts continue in Scouting:

- Be a catalyst in developing good relationships between troop and pack leaders.
- Promote communication by scheduling a meeting of key volunteers.
- Help plan an Arrow of Light den visit to a troop meeting and other joint activities.
- Keep the pack and troop on schedule as plans develop for the crossover ceremony.
- Attend the crossover ceremony.
- Be sure new Scouts have completed a Scouts BSA application, that they have a copy of the troop's activities, and that they know when and where the troop meets.
- Work with the Arrow of Light den leader to follow up on youth who did not join a troop. Make sure they are invited to join a troop.
- Be sure Arrow of Light Scouts join a troop in time to prepare for Scout summer camp.

District Arrow of Light Transition Chair

Another key role for a successful Arrow of Light-to-Scout transition is the district Arrow of Light transition chair. This person is a member of the district membership committee and is charged with making sure every Arrow of Light Scout is given an opportunity to join a troop. A district Arrow of Light transition chair can use these tips to help Arrow of Light scouts take the next step and bridge into a Scouts BSA troop:

- Ensure that Cub Scout Packs properly have their Cub Scouts registered as Arrow of Light and in Arrow of Light dens in Scoutbook.
- Coach Cubmasters and Arrow of Light den leaders in the transition process at roundtables, training courses, and through personal contact.

- Report to the membership committee chair and keep the district committee informed.
- Track and maintain records of Arrow of Light dens and which Troops the dens are working with and plan to join by using a wall chart that lists the transition record of each den.
- Work with unit commissioners to follow up on Arrow of Light Scouts who have not joined a troop.
- Work toward 100 percent Arrow of Light transition.

What is Wood Badge?

Wood Badge is the premier leadership training course for adults offered by the Boy Scouts of America. It is a hands-on and experiential course designed give Scouters the tools they need to better their units and the youth they work with.

Who should take Wood Badge?

You are invited to take Wood Badge if you have completed the following “basic” training:

- Youth Protection
- Position-Specific Training
- Any other training required for your registered position, such as IOLS or BALOO, if applicable

What is Wood Badge like?

The Wood Badge course is conducted at Broad Creek over two weekends. You will camp out and take part in a variety of indoor and outdoor training sessions. You get to live and practice the Scouting ideals, strengthen your leadership skills, make new friends, and develop your Scouting network. Meals will be prepared for you the first weekend and served in the Pavilion. For the second weekend, you will be given a stipend to purchase food and cook meals as a patrol in your campsite.

Why should I take Wood Badge?

Wood Badge is:

- An opportunity for you to learn and grow
- An investment in your unit
- A deeper understanding of the Scouting program
- A commitment to diverse perspectives, cultures, methods, and views
- A healthy dose of Scouting Spirit!

How do I officially complete the Wood Badge course?

You must attend all the scheduled Course days to receive credit for completing the Course. During the Course, you will write a “Ticket”, where you develop goals for your registered Scouting position that you will work to achieve over the next six to eighteen months. A Ticket Counselor will be assigned to mentor you as you work on your Ticket. When you complete the goals you set in your Ticket, you will receive the Wood Badge National Recognition.

How much does it cost?

Wood Badge costs $350. Partial scholarships are available for those in need—contact the course director or Steve Rose, Wood Badge Coordinator (sb.rose@verizon.net) for additional information.
